Peace of mind in your most critical hires

At Cork Griffiths, we are so confident that our experience and methods will deliver ideal candidates to our clients, that we offer them a full guarantee, extendable up to twelve months.

In a nutshell, if for any reason a candidate successfully placed by Cork Griffiths does not remain with the client company within an agreed period, Cork Griffiths will replace the candidate absolutely free of charge.

We believe that offering full guarantees for every placement, no matter how Junior or Senior, allows each Cork Griffiths client to be reassured that our processes and approach to recruitment genuinely delivers outstanding results.

Our guarantees are set with each client individually, according to their specific needs, and are available to extend by the quarter if required.
